Navisworks Manage 2019, 819K1.[Outcome of short-term follow-up of patients with prolactinomas treated with dopamine agonists]. Prolactinomas are a great challenge to the physician. The objective of this study was to evaluate the short-term outcome of patients with prolactinomas after treatment with dopamine agonists. We studied clinical variables, endocrinological and imaging data for patients who had received dopamine agonists for at least 6 months. The variables considered were the pretreatment values of prolactin, the reduction of tumor size, the decrease in the number of lactotrophs, and the decrease in the vascularization. A total of 27 patients were included in the study, with mean age of 35.4 years. There was an improvement in prolactin levels in 68% of patients, tumor size in 66.6% of patients, and vascularization in 82.6%. The prevalence of normalization of prolactin was 44% after 6 months of treatment, 40% after 12 months and 7% after 24 months. The prevalence of complete remission (normalization of prolactin, absent nodular growth) after 6 months was 33.3% and of persistent disease was 44.4%. The high prevalence of persistent disease makes the study of prognostic factors for the treatment of prolactinomas an important task.St. Paul
